RAILWAY EXPRESS DATA

First Class General merchandise—Rates vary according to weight and distance carried.

Second Class Articles of Food and Drink with limitations, also seeds, roots, grains, etc. Rates 25% less than First Class.

Third Class Books, Advertising Printed Matter, Printed Cards, Pamphlets, Calendars, etc. Each Package should be marked to indicate contents. Value limited to $10.00. Rate 1c. for each 2 oz. or fraction thereof. Minimum charge 15c.

Special Express Rates are available for certain classes of merchandise. A special rate for advertising matter, with a minimum charge of 25c. and point to point commodity rates are available. Such information may be obtained from any Express Office.

All Rates and Charges include Collection and Delivery in cities and principal towns. Packages may be left at Western Union Offices, or will be called for by Western Union messengers, without extra charge.

Regular Express charges include insurance up to $50.00 on each shipment of 100 lbs. or less, and 50c. per lb. where shipments weigh over 100 lbs. Additional insurance may be obtained at 10c. per $100.00 or fraction thereof.

Charges may be prepaid by shipper or collected from consignee.

Air Express service is operated in co-operation with Rail Express. Shipments for transportation by air are accepted under the same general terms and conditions. Shipments of unusual bulk or weight (over 200 lbs.) are not accepted for transportation by air, except by advance arrangement. Practically all classes of matter can be handled by air express, except live creatures, and inflammables.

Tuesday, Memoranda, 1940

Memoranda

If you work in some factory, shop, office, or almost any other kind of industry, you will be getting benefits that will help you later on. From the time you are 21 years old, or when you start working, you will get a contribution toward a part of your life, which will be worked out from January 1, 1941, to the end of 1945, and have paid back that time a total of $1.00 at work.

THE AMOUNT OF YOUR CONTRIBUTION

How much you will get when you are 65 years old, or depend on how much you earn in wages from the industrial business establishment between January 1, 1941, and your 65th birthday.

If you will be 65 after January 1, 1941 your earnings will be computed on total wages earned from January 1, 1941, and prior to age of 65 as follows:

For first $1,000 earned	1/10%	per dollar
next $1,000	1/10%
remainder earned	1/10%

If you are before 65 your earnings will receive 1/10% of your total allowed wages up to $1,000 a year from January 1, 1941, until death.

If you are after 65 your earnings will receive the same amount as the total of earnings benefits paid during your life.

If you will be a worker January 1, 1941 you will receive a lump sum of 1% of your total earnings between January 1, 1941 and the date you reach 65.

TAXES

The same law that provides for old age benefits for you and other workers, sets up certain new taxes to be paid by the United States Government. These taxes are collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue of the U. S. Treasury Department, and amounts representing them should be added to your expense.

YOUR PART OF THE TAX

The taxes called for in the law will be paid both by your employer and by you.

That is to say, during the next 5 years beginning January 1, 1941, you will pay 1 cent for every dollar you earn, and at the same time your employer will pay 1 cent for every dollar you earn, up to $2,000 a year.

Beginning in 1946 deductions for Old Age Insurance benefits will be as follows:

Year	% of Earnings
1946, 1947, 1948	2 1/2%
1949, 1950, 1951	3%
1952, 1953, 1954	3 1/2%
1955 on	4%

Your employer will also pay an equal amount. The two parts following to 1942 should be added to your total of paid earnings and also paid savings for the year, toward the Old Age Insurance benefits.

Memoranda

WHAT THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT MEANS TO YOU

It means that if you work in some factory, shop, mine, mill, store, office, or almost any other kind of business or industry, you will be earning benefits that will come to you later on. From the time you are 65 years old, or more, and stop working, you will get a Government check every month of your life, if you have worked some time (one day or more) in each of any 5 years after 1936, and have earned during that time a total of $2,000 or more.

THE AMOUNT OF YOUR CHECKS

How much you will get when you are 65 years old will depend entirely on how much you earn in wages from your industrial or business employment between January 1, 1937, and your 65th birthday.

If you will be 65 after January 1, 1942 your monthly income will be computed on total wages earned from December 31, 1936, and prior to age of 65 as follows—

For first $3,000 earned	—	1/2% per month
next 42,000	—	1/12%
remainder earned	—	1/24%

If you die before 65 your estate will receive 3½% of your total allowed wages (up to $3,000 a year) from January 1, 1937 until death.

If you die after 65 your estate will receive the same amount less the total of monthly benefits paid during your lifetime.

If you will be 65 before January 1, 1942 you will receive a lump sum of 3½% of your total earnings between January 1, 1937 and the date on which you are 65.

TAXES

The same law that provides these old-age benefits for you and other workers, sets up certain new taxes to be paid to the United States Government. These taxes are collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue of the U. S. Treasury Department, and inquiries concerning them should be addressed to that bureau.

YOUR PART OF THE TAX

The taxes called for in this law will be paid both by your employer and by you.

That is to say, during the next 3 years, beginning January 1, 1937, you will pay 1 cent for every dollar you earn, and at the same time your employer will pay 1 cent for every dollar you earn, up to $3,000 a year.

Beginning in 1940 deductions for Old Age Retirement Benefits will be as follows—

Year	% of Income
1940, 1941, 1942	1½%
1943, 1944, 1945	2%
1946, 1947, 1948	2½%
1949 on	3%

Your employer will also pay an equal amount.

The two pages following are to help you keep an accurate record of your employers and also your earnings for the year, taxed for Old Age Retirement Benefits.

TIME. High noon, 12:00 M. Wednesday, June 5th, Horton's Brewery, N. Y. C.—or Princeton 4:00 P.M. same day . . . to Sunday afternoon, June 9th.

HEADQUARTERS. Libby's Mansion. West of South Terminus of Nassau Street. Look for the 1915 banner.

TELEPHONE NUMBER. Princeton 1915.

GROUNDS and FITTINGS. The 1915 sanctum sanctorum offers a new feature as an inner shrine or Forbidden City . . . a large capacious room with bar, piano, and comfortable chairs is reserved for FIFTEENERS ONLY, who want 100% '15 essence, and heaven help any Blitzkrieg gate crashers! Everything about headquarters has been decorated and organized for comfort, harmony and complete relaxation under the able management of Walter Johnson and Bob Scannell.

ROOM ACCOMMODATIONS — SLEEPING QUARTERS. A bed will be assigned to each Fiftener. Apply immediately on arrival at headquarters to the undergraduate secretary in charge at the information desk. The Morpheus Committee consists of Paul D. Adams.

MASCOTS. A real wiry haired, twisty horned odoriferous beer goat, snared from the wilds by Frank Buck, will make life dangerous and colorful.

MEALS. Schedule of these will be posted at headquarters.

LIQUID REFRESHMENTS. We have gotten the best beautiful amber and clear beer obtainable—all you can or wish to hold . . . and the poisonous colored soft drinks so dear to certain merely thirsty souls, will also be available. Furthermore the bar in the sanctum sanctorum is at your disposal. See Tom Horn or Ken Smith about joining Goats Club.

POLICY. We believe in freedom of individual action tempered by consideration for averages. Our average burden of 47 discreet years underwrites the riot insurance.

GUESTS. Your friends are welcome, but remember that too much infiltration of outside element dilutes the 1915 mixture, which is the essential purpose of this party. The Saturday pre-game buffet luncheon is to be the big affair for wives and children. We feel that the gentle sex do not add to the balance of the program.

EXERCISE. This is optional for all of us middle aged fellows. There will be plenty at Forsgate, if you want it. Whoever cares to sweat it out at tennis, will know where to find the University Courts. The gymnasium tank will also be open for the revivification of jaded souls . . . lockers for the meticulous, for four bits!

BAND. One of the finest . . . a really peppy one that can play, and that won't stall. The class song has been orchestrated . . . loud . . . brazen . . . rejuvenating (page Mr. Steinach).

COSTUME. Be sure you bring the costume sent you . . . blazer, hat, tie, plus white trousers and white shoes of your own. Don't stand on any false dignity about putting on this outfit immediately on arrival to step up Fifteen homogeneity. Above all be sure to wear it at the GAME. A few drab "muffies" spoil the whole effect!

Children's reunion wearing apparel: Girls—scarves, Boys—neckties,—both get buttons.

TICKETS. Ball game tickets are free and included in the Reunion charge. Track Meet tickets are optional and should be purchased ahead of time at any of the authorized agencies. You will probably want to go with a bunch, so buy them together. Remember, the band concert, however, is doing its stuff at headquarters at the same time, for those who prefer to skip this track meet.

SIGNING UP. Please sign up with the man in charge (your name, permanent mailing address, and hour of arrival) immediately on getting to headquarters. This gives an immediate up-to-date checkup on Fifteneers present, and enables friends to find each other. It works both ways. Besides it serves as a record of attendance, and insures the record breaking attendance prize we hope to romp away with.

Furthermore, put on the button that you will be given bearing your name. Maps change with age, particularly wrinkled ones! Your classmates aren't mind readers. Even though this button idea is a bit on the rotarian side, it has its good points and works well for the first few hours. Also most classmates will want Goats Club button indicating member in good standing. See Tom Horn or Ken Smith.

FILTHY LUCRE and FINANCES. Each individual will know what he still owes on arranged for Reunion Charge, and can greatly facilitate matters by clearing the shadow of obligation immediately on arrival (see Everett G. Frank).

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 5th

Daylight Saving Time used throughout.

Sonorously the gong strikes eight bells —

High noon 12:00 M.—1915 Gathers at Horton's Brewery: 460 West 128th St., N. Y. City (corner of Amsterdam Avenue). A light lunch, a light or dark beer . . . or two. Carlos Restivo softly accompanies the grinding molars, the burble of voices, the crooning tunes.

3:00 P.M.—Leave for Princeton. Enough classmates will have cars. Just get into any one of them.

5:00 P.M.—Arrive at headquarters. Sign up. Wash up. Put on the 1915 regalia and "blend in."

7:30 P.M.—Dinner at headquarters . . . Rehearsal of Step Singing.

9:15 P.M.—1915 P-Rade, Mans Kidder, leader.

9:30 P.M.—Take over steps at Nassau Hall.

10:00 P.M.—Back to headquarters. Informal entertainment. Relax for the big day ahead.

THURSDAY, JUNE 6th

1915's Day in the Country

From dawn on—Breakfast at Snack Bar.

9:00 A.M.—Leave headquarters for Forsgate Farms Country Club, Jamesburg, N. J., either in bus or your own or your friend's (or enemy's) car. Drive carefully. Second Bus at 11:00 A.M. Way will be marked—unlosable for even the dumbest! Follow the 1915 arrows. Golf.—18-hole matches . . . prizes for low gross, low net, and "kickers." Horse shoe tossing.—prize for 1915 champion. Nothing obligatory. Lounging and bickering the order of the day.

1:00 P.M. Lunch!! As Shakespeare says: "We'll do as adversaries do at law Vie mightily, and eat and drink as friends."

3:30 P.M.—Softball baseball game: GOATS . . . Tom Horn, Capt. VS. PHILADELPHIAN SOCIETY . . . Dick Bard, Capt. Here's where we prove or disprove "The triumph of good over evil." All those exemplary Murray Dodge men such as Longstreth, Fleming,

Froelick, Booth, etc. will do their stuff against Tom Horn and his bums. Beer and soft drinks on all bases.

5:30 P.M.—Buses and private cars return to Princeton. Drive carefully.

FACULTY NIGHT, THURSDAY, JUNE 6th

7:30 P.M.—Cocktails and reminiscences on the terrace of the Princeton Inn.

8:00 P.M.—Dinner in Proctor Hall, Graduate College. A splendid informal occasion together with the surviving "proffs" and preceptors that strove so valiantly (and fruitlessly?) to prepare us for "The finer things of life" twenty-five years ago. "1915 Potpourri," composed and played by the noted '15 organist, Al Booth!

10:00 P.M.—Volunteer campus patrols to take all strategic points, including our own usurped headquarters, John Q. Stewart's new observatory, and sundry tents.

FRIDAY, JUNE 7th

Gala Day at Headquarters

8:00-10:00 A.M.—Breakfast at Snack Bar.

11:00 A.M.—Preceptorial will be held, optionally, for '15-ers under Prof. Walter P. (Buzzer) Hall, McCosh 28 . . . a stimulating talk comparing old-time pedagogy with present Princeton methods, and clarifying the course of Princeton progress.

1:00 P.M.—Lunch at headquarters, soup sipping accompanied by the tireless Carlos on his go'd and white accordion.

2:00 P.M.—Afternoon entirely at headquarters or informal meandering in the grand greenery of a Princeton June.

8:00 P.M.—Essence and acme of the perfect 1915 lobster dinner, with Gene Sloan and cohorts presiding . . . Carlos in the gaps, University Glee Club members under Walter Johnson. Keystone Quartet . . . Walter Evans, baritone . . . Michael McDugal . . . Joe Gish Everyman (that's you or I) if and when the spirit moves . . . Talented fellow alumni and undergraduates—bring your trained seals but not your wives!

SATURDAY, JUNE 8th

8:00-10:00 A.M.—Breakfast. The same old snack bar . . . God bless that hot coffee!

11:00 A.M.—Brunch . . . families, children, guests, friends, employers, wives, ex-wives, n' everything. Band concert on the lawn, that brass rhythm with the carry-over.

12:30 P.M.—Class Picture.

1:00 P.M.—Alumni P-Rade begins to organize . . . Nance Hanks, chief marshal.

1:30 P.M.—P-Rade starts. Can these shuffling, 25-year out veterans still walk without sagging?

2:30 P.M.—Yale vs. Princeton, Baseball. University Field. Undoubtedly initially well attended.

5:30 P.M.—Monstrous Track Meet. Palmer Stadium. Optionally attended.

5:30-7:30 P.M.—Smashing, dashing, crashing, firing, inspiring, untiring Band Concert on the lawn of headquarters.

8:00 P.M.—Class dinner. Ken Smith, toastmaster. CLASS MEETING. Presentation of athletic trophies. Presentation of trophy for winners of Goats vs. Philadelphians. Musical Clubs. Class characters by Ike Swart.

10:00 P.M.—Informality in the ascendancy into the teeth of the mellow night.

SUNDAY, JUNE 9th

8:00 A.M. . . . ?—Breakfast at the Snack Bar or on your own.

11:00 A.M.—Class Memorial Service . . . Jim Healey presiding. Murray Dodge Hall.

12:30-1:30 P.M.—Cocktail party given by the resident Fifteneers at headquarters.

1:30 P.M.—Resident '15 wives, as a group, invite the visiting '15 wives, children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren to a feed, the location of which will be announced in due time.

3:00 P.M. and on—How about a recuperative salty swim in the Atlantic at Ebe Faber's, South Mantoloking, N. J. . . . 50 miles from Princeton? Bring your own drinks, G-strings and pulmotors.

Twenty-Fifth Reunion March Class of 1915

(Words and Music by M. C. Terry)

VERSE:

We have come back to old Princeton
From North, South, East and West,
Back to this town in New Jersey
That we love the best,
We left our cares behind us,
All that we see reminds us
We graduated from Princeton
MANY YEARS AGO.

1st CHORUS:

Every year we come back to this famous Jersey town
To reunite at Nassau Hall.
Many years have gone by, many cares have weighed us down,
But we always hear the call.
Many miles we've come to be here today,
Just to live again the happiest way,
And as we march by, you'll hear us say:
"We're the CLASS OF OLD FIFTEEN."

2nd CHORUS:

(Jack) "Hello Bill."
(Bill) "Hello Jack."
(Jack & Bill) "Say it's great to see you back.
How's the world been treating you?"
(Bill) "I've done fine in my line, got a wife and children nine.
And I'm listed in Who's Who."
(Jack) "Put her there old scout, I'm satisfied too, I'm a bachelor with nothing to do."
(Jack & Bill) "So let's celebrate with golden brew, Drinking toasts to old FIFTEEN."

3rd CHORUS:

Roll the kegs right up here, fill the steins with foaming beer,
Bottoms up to you old bean.
Fill them up one by one, drink to dear old Bevis,
Finest President we've seen.
Then there's old Fred Winant, he's a good scout,
Here's to Ebe and Mans you've heard much about,
And we won't leave anybody out,
So let's drink to old FIFTEEN.

Roosevelt Nominates Forrestal For Under Secretary of Navy

New Yorker an Assistant to President in Defense Program Since June 26

From the Herald Tribune Bureau

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—James V. Forrestal, of New York, was nominated today for the newly created post of Under Secretary of the Navy.

President Roosevelt selected Mr. Forrestal for the job after he had served here since June 26 as an administrative assistant to the President. Mr. Forrestal is a former president of Dillon, Read & Co., of New York.

The Under Secretaryship was created in an act of Congress, approved on June 20, which authorized the President to fill such a post in times of national emergency. In his role as administrative assistant to the President Mr. Forrestal has served as a liaison man in financial matters.

There was no specific definition of his duties, but it was assumed he aided with the national defense program and possibly also served in connection with the all-American trade program.

Was Navy Flyer in World War

James Vincent Forrestal served in the Navy during the World War as an airplane pilot. Except for his war service, he passed his entire career with Dillon, Read & Co. until he resigned as president of the firm on June 22 to join Mr. Roosevelt's administration.

A native of Beacon, N. Y., Mr. Forrestal worked his way through Princeton, from which he was graduated in 1915. His first job was as a bond salesman for Dillon, Read & Co., which was then growing into one of the important investment houses in Wall Street.

After the Armistice he became head of the department of bond sales of the firm, and in 1923 he was made a partner. He became known in Wall Street as the right-hand man of Clarence Dillon, then head of the house. He assisted in one of the largest financial transactions of that period when Dillon, Read & Co. acquired the Dodge Brothers' automobile business and sold $150,000,000 in securities in the latter company to the public.

Mr. Forrestal became a vice-president of Dillon, Read & Co. in 1926 and succeeded Mr. Dillon as president in 1938. He testified many times for the firm in 1933 during the hearings of the Senate Stock Market Investigating Committee conducted by Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the committee. He testified at one point that he was able to avoid paying income tax on a profit of $864,000 in 1929 by forming two personal holding companies.

Charles S. McCain, former president of the Chase National Bank and of the United Light & Power Company, succeeded Mr. Forrestal as president of Dillon, Read & Co.

Miss Doris Bew White Becomes the Bride Of Lewis A. Clarke in Greenwich Chapel

Mrs. Lewis Atterbury Clarke

David Berns

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

GREENWICH, Conn., Jan. 22—The marriage of Miss Doris Bew White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jay White of Rock Ridge, Greenwich, to Lewis Atterbury Clarke, son of George M. Clarke of 1,035 Fifth Avenue, New York, and the late Mrs. Annie Townsend Lawrence Atterbury Clarke, took place here this afternoon in the chapel of Christ Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Albert J. M. Wilson. White blossoms, smilax and evergreens were used in the decorations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin, cut along Elizabethan lines and made with a heart-shaped neckline, long sleeves puffed at the shoulder, a full skirt and a train. Her veil of tulle fell from a coronet of white satin and she carried a bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Miss Virginia White was maid of honor for her sister. The other bridal attendants were Miss Gertrude White, another sister; Mrs.

James A. Higgins of Providence, R. I.; Mrs. Burrall Barnum of Greenwich and Mrs. William H. Corbin of Morristown, N. J. George M. Clarke was best man for his son. The ushers were George M. Clarke Jr., brother of the bridegroom; Vanderpoel Adriance of Williamstown, Mass.; C. E. Graham Reeves of Summit, N. J.; Robert Wilson Jr. of New York, William H. Corbin of Morristown and John J. McInerney Jr. of Rochester, N. Y.

A reception was given at the home of the bride's parents.

After a wedding trip in Canada, Mr. Clarke and his bride will make their home in Armonk, N. Y.

The bride was graduated from Dana Hall School and in 1934 from Sarah Lawrence College. She was introduced to society during the season of 1932. Mr. Clarke, an alumnus of the Hotchkiss School, was graduated in 1934 from Princeton University and later from the Yale Law School. He is a member of the Racquet and Tennis Club and is with the law firm of Clarke & Allen in New York.

to article rejected by the voters in 1938. Now, however, the recommendation of the Judicial Council has been whittled down so that the Legislature would be authorized to make the changes mentioned on merely a majority vote.

This gives the Republicans the chance to create the 10th judicial district on Long Island, which they have been seeking for some time. And that is the nub of the whole thing!

Obviously, the attempt by the Legislature to change the recommendation of the Judicial Council from a two-thirds vote to a majority vote for the alteration of judicial districts is solely for the political advantage of the Republican party in Nassau and Suffolk counties. It is designed to give the Republican political leaders of those counties the power to dictate the selection of all future Supreme Court justices in the proposed new district, and it is partisan political "courts packing" of a most vicious kind. No War-Loathing from Women Workers.

By Hazel M. Simpson.

Concerning the articles recently published in your paper about the dire things which happened to women who went overseas during the last war. In the interests of truth, and it also may be said frankly, in protest against the flimsy propaganda, I should like to refute the imputation that women, as such, regret and have suffered from their experiences in the war.

I happen to have been the secretary of a committee of ex-overseas Red Cross personnel in 1930, 12 years after the armistice, which was formed to contribute money to the National Red Cross Building in Washington, and I know it was easy to raise the money, that the Red Cross personnel had no regrets about having gone, and as old-fashioned as it may seem today, we actually took it as a privilege and a duty in life.

Further, I number among my acquaintances several hundred ex-Red Cross women in New York City, and since the 22 years of the ending of World War I have yet to hear an ex-Red Cross worker regret that she served abroad, and none attributes her infirmities, if any, to war work. There never has been, and probably never will be, any sort of a movement among ex-Red Cross workers to get on pension rolls on account of war service.

Abbey Thorn Kissel And Louis Starr To Wed Next Month

Troth of Vanderbilt Kin Is Announced by Parents, Mr.
and Mrs. W. Thorn Kissel

Mr. and Mrs. W. Thorn Kissel, of 33 East Sixty-seventh Street and Peapack, N. J., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Abbey Thorn Kissel, to Mr. Louis Starr, son of Mrs. Hammond Starr, of Bernardsville, N. J., and the late Louis Starr. Miss Kissel was graduated from the Bearley School and made her debut in New York three years ago at a dance in the Kissel city home. She is a member of the New York Junior League, the Colony Club and the River Club. The wedding will take place next month.

Through her grandmother, Mrs. Gustav E. Kissel, of 720 Park Avenue, Miss Kissel is a great-great-granddaughter of the late Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt. On the maternal side she is a granddaughter of Mr. John Dallett, of Washington, and the late Mrs. Dallett, and a great-granddaughter of the late Joel Francis Freeman, who was the first treasurer of the Standard Oil Company. She is a niece of Miss Gertrude A. Freeman, of 141 East Seventy-second Street, and of Lady Pease, of London, the former Miss Jeannette Kissel.

Mr. Starr was graduated from Groton School and studied in England. For the last few years he has been with the Grace Line. His marriage to the former Miss Kathleen Baker was terminated by divorce. He is a grandson of the late Brig. Gen. John Henry Hammond, a nephew of Mr. John Henry Hammond, of New York, and Mr. Ogden H. Hammond, former American Ambassador to Spain, and, on the paternal side, of the late Lieut. Dillwyn Parrish Starr, of the Coldstream Guards, England, who was killed in the World War.

Miss Kingsley Olmsted

Miss Kingsley Olmsted, Henry Morgan's Fiancee

Denver Girl, Living in N. Y., to Wed in Spring

Dr. and Mrs. George Kingsley Olmsted, of Denver, have announced in New York the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kingsley Olmsted, of 340 East Fifty-seventh Street, this city, to Mr. Henry Williams Morgan, son of Mrs. Clarence Whitfield Morgan and the late Mr. Morgan, of Tryon, N. C.

Miss Olmsted is a graduate of Kent School, in Denver, and attended Bennington College, in North Bennington, Vt. She is a direct descendant of James Olmsted, who came to Boston from England in 1632.

Mr. Morgan was graduated from North Carolina State College in 1930 and did post-graduate work at Lehigh University. He is a member of Squadron A and is with the export department of the Republic Steel Corporation.

The wedding will take place in the late spring.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS

THE PRESIDENCY

Power of Silence

Down the gravel-covered driveway and through the East Gate of the White House grounds swung the long, black, open automobile that is known around the Executive offices as "the Queen Mary." In the back seat sat the President, wearing a seersucker suit, doffing his battered Panama hat when the crowds in the street recognized him. A crowd of Government workers gathered around the gate of the Washington Naval Yard, where the U. S. S. Potomac, White House yacht, was tied up to the dock awaiting President and party; the crowd gave a stifled cheer; the President's big right hand went up in the air and the big smile flashed in recognition. There was the usual 21-gun salute barked from the shore batteries as the President crossed the dock-level gang-plank; there was the usual trilling of the bos'n's whistle piping the President over the side as eight boys stood at attention; the four-starred flag of the Commander in Chief of the Army & Navy was broken out at the mainmast; a bugle sounded, bluejackets scurried about the decks, the big gasoline motors began to roar, and the Potomac moved down the historic river toward the sea.

In any week but last week the cruise of the Potomac would have seemed a normal weekend rest. On board was Judge Samuel Irving Rosenman, old friend and political counselor who was with the President when he was nominated in 1932, traveled with him during the 1936 campaign, and was a White House guest for the week of the Democratic Convention in 1940. There were also the President's secretary Marguerite Le Hand and two friends. The President toyed with his stamp collection, as usual; talked long with Judge Rosenman, as usual; fished a little, as usual. As on other cruises, a Navy plane dropped from the skies, came alongside the Potomac, left the official mail and the Sunday papers. There were eels for dinner, eels that the President had caught and which make good eating when prepared by the Potomac's Filipino cook.

But no rigorous devotion to business as usual or relaxation as usual, no careful determination to act as if the Democratic Convention did not exist, could make last week usual. In Chicago the Convention was existing (see p. 12). To many an appalled observer it seemed to be doing little more than that. In his last pre-Convention press conference the President had put off question after question hurled at him by reporters attempting to draw him out about the Third Term. He was, he said, President of the United States, sticking close to the affairs of the nation, as his position dictated; he would not go to the Convention. But the uncertainty over what he intended to do, how he would react when he received the nomination that all observers agreed he would get, was a more powerful political force than any political action he could have taken, any political statement he could have made. And when Chicago observers looked over the scene—the other candidates stymied, the delegates supporting Roosevelt because they believed that only with him could they win in November, the uneasiness over the Third Term—they were prepared to give President Roosevelt a unique place in U. S. political history. Through all the wordy 37 Presidential campaigns in the U. S., his were the most powerful words that were never spoken.

The Potomac returned to the Navy Yard dock; the President returned to the White House. Washington headquarters of the Democratic National Committee shifted to the White House switchboard its private line to Chicago. The President called Jim Farley, extended his good wishes for the convention. "How are things going?" he asked. "Okay," said Jim Farley. Secretary of State Cordell Hull, preparing to leave for Havana, stopped to lunch with the President. Said White House Spokesman Steve Early: "Probably nobody will believe it, but they're going to talk about the Havana Conference."

Surprise Party

Grey-haired Mrs. Ruth Ericksen is the owner (with her husband) and the dominant personality of historic Fontainebleau Inn, near Odessa, N. Y. Ericksenian is the table she sets, Ericksenian the way she describes it. For instance:

"Broiled Lamb Chops $1.00.

"I dream of lamb chops! . . . They rollop up and down in front of Fontainebleau, parading huge signs: 'Ruth Ericksen is unfair to lamb chops! We are young, tender and juicy. . . . Moreover, we are modest, we wear frills down to our ankles and that is more than SHE does on some of these Saturday nights—yeah, man!'"

According to what Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt had heard, Mrs. Ericksen was not only unfair to lamb chops, she was unfair to youth. Mrs. Roosevelt had heard that Mrs. Ericksen did not like the American Youth Congress, to which Mrs. Roosevelt is very partial. Last month she invited Mrs. Ericksen to the White House. There the astounded Mrs. Ericksen was met by the President's wife and members of the A. Y. C., who straightway whelmed her with arguments. Mrs. Ericksen spent the night, went home, wrote a "thank-you" note to her hostess, added: "But my opinion of the American Youth Congress has not changed." Retorted Mrs. Roosevelt, who is not easily downed: "May I come and speak to your community?" and set a date.

The hostess of Fontainebleau decided she needed some big-league help. A constant reader of the New York Herald Tribune's conservative Columnist Mark Sullivan, she wrote to him, emitting an Ericksenian cry of distress. When Mrs. Roosevelt arrived at Fontainebleau, wearing flame-colored chiffon, a necklace of sharks' teeth, great was her surprise to encounter Mr. Sullivan, in white tie & tails.

For about 45 minutes, while 500 other guests listened, Mrs. Roosevelt spoke on Youth, then said graciously to Mr. Sullivan: "Don't you want to say something?" Mr. Sullivan had come all the way from Washington with just that in mind. Said he: a number of things have lately been "regrettable": that Mrs. Roosevelt should have attended Dies Committee meetings with A. Y. C. members who were to be questioned; that members of the A. Y. C.

should have booed her husband when he addressed them last winter on the White House lawn. Rejoined Mrs. Roosevelt: "Many things are regrettable, Mr. Sullivan." Mrs. Ericksen's party, the guests agreed, was an exciting success.

Last week, probably to Mr. Sullivan's surprise, Mrs. Roosevelt herself mildly rebuked the A. Y. C. (which had gone on record against conscription). Wrote Mrs. Roosevelt in "My Day": "The American Youth Congress . . . [seems] to me to be discussing the world of a year ago, not the world as it is today."

Last week, back among her lamb chops, Mrs. Ericksen said she had enjoyed the party, too, had not changed her mind a whit about the A. Y. C. Yeah, man!

CAMPAIGN

Mr. Boyd's Idea

John Ritchie Boyd manages investments, has an office in Wall Street, spends his summers in Buckhill Falls, Pa. As his friends well know, he is a man of probity, propriety and sound ideas. Year ago he had an idea which was not so much sound as brilliant. He thereupon sat down and wrote a letter to President Roosevelt.

"The suggestion I am about to make," wrote Mr. Boyd, "may at first glance seem inexpedient, but I believe it has real merit and I urge you to give it very serious consideration. The suggestion is that the Democratic National Ticket in 1940 should be: For President—Cordell Hull; for Vice President—Franklin D. Roosevelt."

The merits Mr. Boyd saw in his plan: it capitalized on both men's personal popularity, it maintained the present foreign affairs "team," it kept Mr. Roosevelt's influence in the Administration, it gave people the chance to vote for him without raising the issue of the third term. Mr. Boyd posted his letter and waited.

But Mr. Boyd never got a reply. Months went by. Mr. Boyd, still convinced he had a good idea, wrote to Ambassador Joseph Kennedy, who had arrived from London on a furlough, again outlined his plan. It is also customary for ambassadors to answer their mail. But again there was no reply. Once more Mr. Boyd tried. This time he wrote to Stephen Early, White House secretary, who gets plenty of mail, distributes it to various departments and secretaries. But Mr. Early seemed to have joined a conspiracy of silence.

Great was Mr. Boyd's surprise, therefore, to pick up a New York Journal and American one day, and read the reprint of a copyrighted dispatch which had been sent from Washington to the Boston American. The dispatch quoted "a White House intimate whose identity must remain secret" as saying exactly the same thing Mr. Boyd had been writing letters about.

Early this week, as Mr. Roosevelt went on an outing down the Potomac, and perplexed party leaders gathered in Chicago, wondering why they were there, Mr. Boyd waited, full of suspense. If what he hoped was going to happen happened, he was certainly the Idea-Man of the Year.

Willkie Takes His Shoes Off

While Democrats, tense, baffled and depressed, began to gather at Chicago, Republican Willkie stretched out under a tree beside an artificial lake in Colorado Springs last week, took his shoes off. To a local resident, who apologized of the 92° heat, Mrs. Willkie said reassuringly: "Hot weather makes him lazy and that is just what he needs. I hope he shows signs of increasing laziness."

A brief interruption was a trip to Denver, where he shook hands with all comers at a public reception, made a brief speech, pledging himself to work for: 1) a united people free of class hate; 2) "the rehabilitation of our economic life;" 3) an adequate defense program.

Back in Colorado Springs, Mr. Willkie at week's end began to show signs of restlessness. Uppermost in his mind was his acceptance speech, which he planned to deliver August 1 in his home town of Elwood, Ind. To help shape the G. O. P. policies that will be announced in it, he said he had summoned Pennsylvania's onetime Senator George Wharton Pepper, Kansas' Editor William Allen White, Minnesota's Governor Harold Stassen. Also from Mr. Willkie came the announcement that Republican campaign headquarters would be established in Chicago.

At week's end Mr. Willkie learned that Iowa's Senator Guy Mark Gillette, chairman of the Senate Campaign Investigating Committee, had found nothing "at this time" to justify an investigation of the "Nominate Willkie" telegrams which had flooded the Philadelphia convention. Senator Gillette, a Democrat but no New Dealer, declared he would not be party to a smear campaign. His committee agreed with him.

News that Nominee Willkie heard with less indifference was a Gallup poll which found that he was already running close to Roosevelt in popularity. To the question, "If President Roosevelt runs for a third term . . . against Wendell Willkie . . . how would you vote?" 53% said Roosevelt, 47% Willkie.

Mystery Story

Thousands of visiting Democrats and a few donkeys appeared in Chicago last week. Most of the donkeys (on the hoof and on signs) were soon removed. Exactly why, delegates to the Democratic Party's 28th National Convention had to judge for themselves: unexplained mysteries were the rule in Chicago. On a wall of the Convention's vast (21,000 seats) Chicago Stadium, a huge picture of a donkey was replaced by a spotlighted, grisly sketch of

MAYOR & MRS. MAURY MAVERICK
He was sorry to disappoint her.

Franklin Roosevelt. Assiduously distributed were 500,000 campaign buttons, adorned not by a donkey but by a bright red cock-o'-the-walk and the legend: "Just Roosevelt."

Observers said they had never seen such a convention. The Republicans had been leaderless; the Democrats had been bossed into apathy. They were there for just one purpose, and they knew it—to nominate Franklin D. Roosevelt. Those who were

W. R. Cross Dies After Attending Football Game

N. Y. Zoological Society's President, 66, Stricken at Sister's Princeton Home

Special to the Herald Tribune

BERNARDSVILLE, N. J., Nov. 16. —W. Redmond Cross, president of the New York Zoological Society, died of heart disease at about 5:30 p. m. today in the home of his sister, Mrs. Allen Marquand, at Princeton, N. J., where he had stopped after attending the Princeton-Yale football game at Princeton. He was sixty-six years old.

Mr. Cross, who retired from active business life some years ago, maintained a deep interest in the New York Zoological Park, in the Bronx. He was elected president of the board of trustees of the society on June 29, 1937. Last year he was elected chairman of the council of the American Geographical Society, and had been an officer of the Boone and Crockett Club, an organization of big-game hunters, for about twenty-eight years.

Although retired, Mr. Cross still continued as director of a number of financial institutions. He was a member of the local board of directors of the Atlas Assurance Company, Ltd., a director of the Federal Insurance Company, the National Iron Bank of Morriston, N. J., and the Gauley Mountain Coal Company. He was formerly a member of Redmond & Co., of New York, and Morton, Bliss & Co., and was connected with the Manhattan Trust Company and Morton, Rose & Co., of London.

Before his election to the presidency of the zoological society, Mr. Cross had been a vice-president for more than six years. As president he succeeded the late Madison Grant. In his tenure of office, Mr. Cross saw a steady increase in popularity of the zoo. At the annual meeting of the zoological society in January of this year, Mr. Cross enthusiastically discussed plans for the future of the park, and envisioned the day when a "man who has never been outside the canyons of New York" would be able at the zoological grounds to "see the plains of Africa teeming with game."

His energies were directed toward making the New York Zoological Park the best of its kind in the world and he was perturbed in recent years because of the lack of funds for its development. In his speech at the annual meeting of the society this year he said, "Whatever may be ahead of us, I feel sure of one thing, and that is that the institution which best justifies its existence is the one which is going to be best maintained. The executive committee is determined to make every dollar at its disposal yield the greatest possible return in public service."

Mr. Cross was a member of The Brook, the Down Town Association and the Knickerbocker, Somerset Hills and Yale Clubs. He passed most of his time in Bernardsville, although he maintained an office at 80 Broad Street, New York City.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Julia Newbold Cross; three sons, Richard James, W. Redmond jr. and Thomas Cross, all of Bernardsville; two daughters, Mrs. John Vaughan-Morgan, of London, and Miss Mary Cross, of Bernardsville; a sister Mrs. Allen Marquand, of Princeton, and two brothers, Eliot and John Cross, members of the prominent New York architectural firm of Cross & Cross. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon and will be private.

Tobacco Trade Veteran Dies

TIME IN ITS FLIGHT

Items taken from the Watchman issue of November 21, 1890.

—Governor Pattison will have several important and good paying offices at his disposal and a number that are of inferior importance and profit. The salaries of the official positions he will fill by appointment range from $4,000 down to $300. Of these the offices of Attorney General and Secretary of the Commonwealth are the most important and lucrative. The former receives a salary of $3,500, but the fees of the office make it worth anywhere between $16,000 and $18,000 a year. The salary of the Secretary of the Commonwealth is $4,000 a year but its fees make it worth $12,000 or $15,000. Both surpass that of the Governor whose annual pay is $10,000 without extra fees. Adjutant General with a salary of $2,500; Supt. of Public Instruction, $2,500; Insurance Com., $3,000; State Librarian, $2,500; Private Sec., $2,500; Executive Clerk, $1,500; Asst. to Ex. Clerk, $1,200; Messenger, $1,200; Factory Inspector, $1,500; then a number of mine inspectors whose salaries range from $2,000 to $3,000.

—The Lock Haven mail carriers have been promoted from third to second class carriers with an increase of salary to $850 per year.

—Bills for the sale of the properties of the Centre Iron Company at this place were posted by the Sheriff last Saturday. The company's troubles began when the first fire was put in the furnace. The blast chilled and fires had to be drawn, a repetition of this brought an investigation and findings that the lining was totally at fault. Much expense and legal trouble followed this with the above results.

—Samuel H. Reynolds, son of the late Samuel H. Reynolds, of Lancaster, was married, last Thursday evening in the Moravian church in that city to Miss Susan B. Eberman, of the same city. The groom is a nephew of Wm. F. Reynolds, of Bellefonte, who was present at the wedding, as were also Gen. and Mrs. D. H. Hastings.

—The unveiling of the Clara Price monument will take place on Saturday, November 29th inst., at the Keewaydin cemetery, four miles from Karthaus. The Rev. Dr. McKinley, of Clearfield, will deliver the oration. The monument, the cost of which was $318, is of Quincy granite and appropriately inscribed. In the corner stone will be placed a list of the subscribers to the shaft, together with a number of papers containing accounts of the murder, trial and execution of Andrews. The unveiling will take place on the first anniversary of the death of the unfortunate girl.

BELA BLAU IS DEAD; PRODUCER OF PLAYS

Presented 'Having Wonderful Time' in Partnership With Marc Connelly

SERVED AS ACCOUNTANT

Formerly Lectured on Subject at City College — Stricken in Physician's Office

Bela Blau, theatrical producer, died at 4:30 yesterday afternoon of a heart attack on entering the office of Dr. H. A. Coveler, Room 500, in the Sardi Building, 234 West Forty-fourth Street. Mr. Blau, whose office was in Room 502 in the same building, had hastened to consult his next-door neighbor when he felt a severe cardiac pain. He had not previously suffered from heart disease. He was 44 years old.

In the slightly more than ten years that Mr. Blau had been active on Broadway he became best known as co-producer with Marc Connelly of the comedy success, "Having Wonderful Time" by Arthur Kober, which ran for more than 300 nights at the Lyceum Theatre in 1937. He was also associated with Mr. Connelly in the production of "The Two Bouquets" in the Spring of 1938.

Born in Hungary, Bela Blau spent his early childhood in London and was brought to New York at the age of 10. He became a certified public accountant and at 21 was delivering lectures on accountancy at the College of the City of New York.

His reputation for expert knowledge of business methods led to his being asked to aid a bond-selling campaign of the Theatre Guild and later to his becoming a member of the Guild's business staff. There he introduced a theatre cost system that other managements have adopted. Proximity to the theatre also gave him producing ambitions and, after collecting subscriptions of $105,000, he launched three plays during 1930-31, Austin Parker's "Week-End," William Bolitho's "Overture," and a revival of Arthur Schnitzler's "Anatol." Mr. Blau lived at 410 East 57th Street. He leaves a widow and daughter.
